Seven is perfectly imperfect stuck between compounded symmetry of both 6 and 8. How can this be? Why is this? Seven can't be constructed as its lesser numbers proven by Gauss long ago. What does that imply? We need another reference point, from an alternate plane to construct it as known to us. Another dimensionality, an alternate reference for continued survival between further symmetries. Another moment. The smallest gap ever. A bridging of worlds beneath or prior to 7, beyond it even, as Glue. Gnosis. Geometry. Mind. Imagination, Will. Holding your breath now! Can't put your finger on it precisely. But what do we know? Plenty. 52 weeks of Seven days a year + a tad. Seven classic nightly bodies of 5 visible planets with Sun and Moon. Seven functional layers of the skin. C1-C7 vertebrate allow our neck body and cervical spine to function through 90 degree turns. The ankles seven bones do the same yet more pronounced even. Seven distinct endocrine glands. Seven deadly sins too. Seven Wonders of the World. Seven Eternal Virtues. Lucky number 7! 7 is like Pi, infinite as all numbers are. But inverting at $1/7$ less than 7, Cubic and Square worlds collide. 7 is an integral infinitely long edge inverting our universe. It is the closest thing to touching or seeing Pi in simplest form. $1/7$ is this key to most everything. Take a look at ZenZic's Esoteric Calendar to see 7 act as infinity between Phi and Pi using 10 as our ruler, leading all the way to our ginormous solar system. Our year is precisely 365.2422 days. If you add $1/7$ to 7 and cube it, you get 364.43 which is $1/2$ phi away at .8107 from our cubed and cubic 3D reality. And if you subtract $1/7$ th from 7, you get almost exactly Φ^4 , at 6.85714. Add Pi to that you now have 10 or 1 dependent on base scale. This is what the magic of 7 is, melding infinite Mind through the recursive universe playing out via infinite 7. Our other needed reference point of the grandest mind sits behind the veil. It happens again another way. The largest. 365.2422 days - 360 degrees = 5.2422. Take that and divide by 360 degrees and we have = .01457 which is $1/68.5714$, the same ratio of $7 - 1/7$ th, the way smaller but original inversion of mind. You can't see straight forever, things merge, change, shift, this is all due to infinite circles of 7 leading to the highly symmetrical octave of 8 ahead, final inversion always possible. Our localized infinity, our Sun moves, continuity to the next moment afoot regardless. We all sleep at night. Mind. Earth. We live in Pi, through 7 and tie into 4 orthogonal directions through infinite orthogonal Phi's hiding just $1/7$ away from unity of 1 or 10. Inversion on and on. (ZenZic's Calendar) 7 is the gateway to mind ahead not yet discovered in this eternal moment. Rivers of moments are brokered by 7. 7 is either doorway open or shut, cut corners find 7, its finality or root to every change in course, a corner finally balanced is smoothed by 7. No athlete or champion has ever passed 7 repeats alive. 7 implies 13 months which once included Quintilis and others. Kodak Corporation lived by 13 months back in the day too. Ophicius or Thoth was the 13th Zodiac sign which still reigns and now returns. There is no precise calendar that fits exactly because of 7 and what and how it does things as willed by the larger grander mind of the Monad, of you. There is always possibility through unfinished 7. The Sun is our local infinity at 99.86% mass of our solar system. $1/7$ less than 100%. Jupiter likely fills that remainder. What are you then? Seven! Memory occupies nearly all of our known life when compared to the active moment of now. This can all be seen in the Sun's Analemma too, a warped figure 8 showcasing our mind being in orthogonal inversion to our infinite universe of mind. You are infinity in play with positive and negative orthogonal inversions of light though found only by the untaught dark invented spectrum of Goethe, Trinity sees as you!! And if you watch the Sun, you stand as 7 not feeling anything but him. You complete all infinite circuits! Look up! -THOTH
